Hongkong Tides.

The Tide table given below has been compiled by the Nautical Almanac Office in London from the results of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the venrs 1887-8-9.

The zero of the table is Low Water Ordinary Spring Tides, which has been found to be 2 feet below mean sca level. To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 5 ft. 7 in and on the gauge at Lamont Dock Abordeen, add 12 ft. 9 in to the height-

The scraps of news from the Philippines which have been permitted, despite the close season, to filter through to us from various sources, merely emphasize the fact that there were good reasons, from a Spanish point of view, to block the line. Those significant gleams of intelligence which found their way to us from Singapore--news apparently scribbled on scraps of paper, and smuggled through-appear to convey the most reliable impression of the aituation yet received. The aspect of affairs was at that time (a fortnight ago) anything but reassuring, and the so-called 'funk' in which the Spaniards were alleged to be labouring seemed to imply that the rebellion had been much more widespread than it was at first supposed to be, and that the means at hand to suppress it were not so great or so effective as stated, There is no doubt about the young English. men's accounts being sincere; many of the names mentioned are those of gentlemen well known here and in Singapore. If the statement about the 'Black Hole' of Manila is correct, it shows either the awful straits into which the insurrection had put the Spanish authorities, or the bitterness of feeling engendered, which would have led to such crimes of negligence or of premeditation. If the authorities 'want no more prisoners,' we may perhaps have here an additional reason why no news has over been received on this side of the details of the fighting. It is possible, of course, that there may have been acts of cruelty on the insurgent side which called for reprisals; but of these we have not been advised. And for the blocking of all ordinary intelligence we are indebted to the Spanish authorities. We do not even yet know what the cause of the trouble is, although the news of trouble had seemingly reached Madrid as early as the 22nd of last month. One curious, and we think serious, feature of the situation is this, that no steamer has arrived at this port from Manila for more than a fortnight, the latest date from that port being the 26th of August. Whether this delay is explainable by the assumption that business is suspended, or whether obligations other than those of quarantine have been imposed upon foreign vessels in harbour, now becomes a question. H.M.S. Redpole is certainly there, but the ridiculous rules of quarantine for which Manila is notorious were applied in the Ir is estimated that the Cuban war is costcase of the man of war; and, so far as we know, the absurdity was tolerated. What the end of this rebellion will be, or when we shall ever hear anything about it, passes the Malay States. Guides as adjutant in our understanding. Shanghai Mercury, dealing with the propossi made by Li Hung-chang to raise the tax on imports into China, which will be read with interest. This fiscal scheme said to have formed the real diplomatic object of Li Hung's tour round the world, after the ceremonial duties at Moscow were fulfilled. As the wily Chinese statesman progressed in his triumphal march, he seems: to have grown more explicit as to his desire about this increase of the duties. It was at first hinted, then it was stated with more or less definitness | next it was put forward as a thing which was necessary to build up Chinese finance, and at last it was boldly put forward as a thing which was claimed because we had granted the same concession to Japan. The last development the crafty old diplomat is, that the increase is demanded without any modification whatever of the likin squeezes. This of course, absurd in the very highest dogree. In such a matter Great Britain must be paramount, as the bulk of trade falls to her lot, and (if we may modestly put forward the remark in these modern days) the majority of the Treaties have been made, first for British mer chants, and then for those of other nationalities which followed. It may be remarked, in passing however, that some arrangement must be made by the Chinese Government with the provincial authorities who now receive the likes tax The American Type Founders Co., of or squeeze; otherwise no reasonable San Francisco, have forwarded to us a copy. hope can be entertained that the inland of their Pacific Coast Blue Book and a dues could be abolished. 'An important case under the Stamp Ordinance was disposed of by Commander Castro (Acting Secretary) Hastings at the Magistracy this afternoon. In a recent case in which a Canton trader was sent to prison for obtaining goods by false pretences, it came out in evidence the incorporation of the Company. The that receipts for sums over $10 had been issued by the Sam Sing Wing Shop, dealer in Japanese and Chinese curios, 136 Queen's Road Central. The heavy scoring in the cricket match between the Shanghai Cricket Club and the Shaughai Recreation Club has infused a good deal of life into a cricket season which a good many (says the N.-C. Daily News) were beginning to regard as uneventful and giving little promise in view of the forthcoming interport match. Ir may be remembered that the inhabitants of Labusn not long ago made representations of what appeared to be just grievances under which they suffer, as a result of the administration of the British Colony being now entrusted to the Government of British North Borneo. All those grievances were duly set forth in a petition which was forwarded through Sir Charles Mitchell to the Colonial Office. We now hear, through a direct channel, that the Colonial Office does not consider that a sufficiently strong case has been made out for the petitioners and their prayer that Labuan should be separated from North Borneo. But it is decided that the Governor of the Straits Settlements shall be consulted in this matter. We think that the Governor might do well to visit Labuan, and by direct enquiry investigate the whole case at first preliminary to his advising the Colonial Office on a matter which has been as seriously taken to heart by the inhabitants of Labuan, who, we learn, are urgently desirous to lay their views directly before His Excellency and be heard in deputation. Ben trovato, at least. Here is a story Li Hung Chang and his recent visit to Holland. As the train steamed along amidst the rich pastures of the Netherlands the Chinese statesman turned to the Dutch officials and others accompanying him, and remarked in his impassive manner that considering the fertility and wealth of the country, he was surprised that England the faces of his hearers may be easily imagined but not easily described.

A REMARKABLE case of the bravery of woman is reported by the French mail steamer Austration that arrived at Sydney some weeks ago. It seems that on the 19th July, a Mr Rouel left his home, which is on an island named Bailly, off the New Calciunian coast, for the mainland, accompanied by two of n crew. The party left in a 5-ton cutter. Mr Grist said plaintiff's cargo boat was engaged by A See of the defendant firm, at seven o'clock on the morning of the 9th August. An agreement was entered into that the defendant would idomnify the plaintiff to the extent of $300 if his bout went down. The host was built on the 11th September, and with fittings complete cost $400. The original claim had been for $350, but the claim had been reduced o $330.50 owing to depreciation and the amount received for the sale of the wreck. The plaintiff stated he had been engaged to carry coal from Mr Hughes' godown. The typhoon signal having been raised the defendant offered him $500 if an unforescen accident occurred. He discharged five tons of coal at Tai Wong Street, and the cargo beat was then towed down as far as Blue Buildings, where his cargo boat was sunk

Dr Ho Kai argued that no contract exis ted between the two parties as to an demnity of $500 in case of the loss of the boat. Plenty of boats could be secured that morning to carry out the contract. There was only twenty-three tons of coal on board, which was valued about $138, and it was not likely the defendant would offer the plaintiff such a large sum as an indem-

WHAT THEY KNEW IN LONDON. London, August 22 .- The development of the troubles of Spain is followed here with considerable interest. The outbreak in the Philippine Islands is regarded as seriously increasing her difficulties, and the news of the discovery of the conspiracy has caused great excitement in Madrid, where it is stated that the Government is considering the advisability of promptly reinforcing Spanish garrisons. The outbreak, powever, is not a surprise to the Government officials, as news reached them some time ago of considerable activity among the half-breeds. The object of the conspirators is to secure the independence of the Philippine Islands from Spain, and a committee of the refugees at Hongkong is said to have relations with the Cuban insurgents. Madrid, Aug. 22.—The Premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, in an Interview today is quoted as saying that the Government has instructed the Governor of the Philippine Islands, Captain-General Blanco, to act energetically in the matter of the intrigues and to watch the secret societies. Indeed, the situation is quite a serious one. There are no official returns from which one can learn the total revenue of the Chinese Government. The most careful estimates put it at about Tla. 160,000,000. Of this the Maritimo Customs contributes some Tls. 21,000,000; salt gabelle, Tls. 15,000,000; likin and farious and had organised a laboratory at Autwerp forms of inland revenue, Tls. 29,500,000 where a complete dynamite armoury was dis- | and the land tax, as it is commonly called | about Tls, 34 500,000. This latter item may be too large. Whiltoker's gives it as

> When we compare this revenue with that raised by Western nations of much less territory and population, it seems ridiculously small. In 1893 the British Government, not in cluding the Colonies, raised £131,000,000, or nearly seven times the revenue of China, at the rate of exchange then prevailing. In the same year the United States raised $1,040,000,000 gold, or about ten times as much as China, while Franco surpassed all with the enormous income of 7,000,000,000, about fourteen times that of the Gelestial Empire. Now, China is not naturally poor. It is, on the contrary, in its resources one of the richest empires in the world, and her people are industrious and fragal, so that with a wise and honest Governmen the sums which she needs ought to be raised with the greatest-case. But this is just the difficulty; her Government facility before their countryment. The is neither wise nor honest. The November-December marches the China Remore contains issa variety than asual, but the few articles aga very interesting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert A. Giles on "The New Testament in (hinese" treats of a question that must necosearly be of great inportance in the even of all missionaries. . . Mr E. Parkor's "Short Journeys la Szechuen" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels, in the interior of Chica given. Mr F. H. Baliper contribu es a paper of some longth entitled "The Emperor theng, tounder of the Chingse Empire," which will be read with goomes Interest by atudents of Chiness history A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Quaries, one of which "On Chinese Oatles in Western Form o sud Java " might apprepriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number, '-H.K. Daily Press. Trutner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review:-The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring couptries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the tention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature. antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirabla; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Customs corps, and the missionary body, among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assiduously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors . . . Some translations from Ontness novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and freshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese post-statesman of the seventh century, Su Tung-p'o, by Mr. E. C. Bowra, is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its hierary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to Chiqu and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Recier, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that Notes and Queries are destined to find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for centributions suddenly stopped and pointed with his terial.—W. 'TALKS WITH TENNYSON,'

Under the above title Mr Wilfrid Ward writes a delightful article in the New Review for July. Mr Ward's recollections of the late Laureate date as far back as 1869, or earlier, but it was some ten years later before the acquaintance had ripened into intimacy. After 1879 their walks and talks . together word frequent. Mr Ward mentions at the outset the paet's shyness, which has often been alluded to and frequently misunderstood :-

One waited in the ante-room at Farringford for a few minutes before he appeared. And when he did so there was the far-off look in his eyes. . . . I have known him stand for several minutes after a halfabsent 'How d'ye do?' in this dreamy state, with his ourious look of high strung sensitiveness, before he began to talk. And if one waited silently for him to speak one might have to wait in vain. To tell an amusing story was the best means of breaking the spell. The gleam of humour came to his face at once, he broke into laughter, left the regions of mental abstraction, and probably at once capped the story himself. and abstraction might last longer, but when trembling much. Then he read the prayer Mr and Mrs A. H. Mayor and Mrs A. R. absolute freedom and naturalness of his: conversation came on those who had not seen him before as a surprise. Of Carlyle, Tennyson said ;- He was at flective character of the rest ;once the most reverent and the most irreverent man I have known.' Mrs Carlyle converser, but often surcastic. She never atatesmen he would contrast Gladstons and Disraeli's character' was, he once remarked, that he was scornful; Gladstone is genial. and kindly. Speaking of another eminent statesman, he said : You cannot rule; as he thinks he can, with a silk glove. You must have an iron gauntlet, though you need not always make people feel the iron. THE SECOND LOCKSLEY HALL.

One saying of Tennyson's is all the more interesting because he immediately afterwards embodied it in eight-lines of great Walking one day on the down which stretches from Freshwater Bay to the Freshwater Beacons his conversation was chiefly of two subjects. One was the mad lawlessness of the Celtic Character. . and the other all the mass of confusion Tennyson. and crime which a great town brought together. About half-way be-tween Freshwater Bay and the Beacon, he New Stock of Pianos and Repairing Mastick to a star, quite visible, though it was almost daylight. Do you see that star? This confessen amused Tennyson When Sordello came out, he remarked, Douglas Jerrold said to mo : "What has come to me? Has my mind gone? Here is a poem of which I can't understand a single line" '? Browning, he added; has a genius for a sort of dramatic composition and for analysing the human mind, And he has a great imagination. But a poet's writing should be sweet to the month and car, which Browning's is not. There should be a 4 glory of words as well as deep thought." This he has not got. In his last work he makes "impulse "rhyme with "dim pulse." He spoke of Browning's love of London society-I once told him that he would die in a white tie, and he

In a talk about George Eliot's 'negative religious views,' Tennyson said :-How difficult it is to repeat a thing as it really happened. George Eliot had this conversation with me at Aldworth, and the account of it which got into print was that ! I disputed with her till I was red in the face, and then reared :- Go away, you and your molecules.' The real fact was that our conversation was sweet as summer,' and at parting I shook her hand, and DE PROFUNDIS. An exceedingly interesting portion of Mr Ward's article is the account he gives of Tennyson's explanation and reading of his poom, 'De Profundis.' He was very at the time, but his mind was quite clear, Says Mr Ward :-

Ho seemed so much better when he had finished his explanation that I asked him to read the poem through again. This he did, more beautifully than I have ever heard him read. I felt as though his long illness and his expectation of death gavo more intensity and force to his rendering of this wonderful poem on the mystery of life. He began quietly, and read the concluding lines of his first 'greeting,' the brief description of a peaceful old age and death, from the human standpoint, with a very tender pathos :-

And last, in kindly curves, with gentlest fall, By quiet fields, a slow red ing power, To that last deep where we and thou are still,

Then he gathered force, and his voice deepened as the greeting to the immortal soul of the man was read. He raised his eyes from the book at the seventh line and looked for a moment at his hearer with an induscribable expression of awe before he uttered the word 'spirit' :- 'Out of the deep-Spirit-out of the deep.' When he Mr L. Barindoague Capt. Palmer If a stranger went to see him the shyness had finished the second greeting he was Mr B. J. Barlow Mr W.
